Hi, I'm Rajat Khirwadkar

A Passionate Frontend Developer

About Me

I am a frontend developer with a good understanding of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I'm looking for opportunities to apply my skills, build real-world projects, and grow in the field of web development.

Projects

Travel Destination Page

This project is a responsive and visually appealing travel destination landing page built using only HTML and CSS. It highlights a popular tourist location — Bali, Indonesia — and provides an engaging user interface with a full-screen hero section, destination overview, and key highlights like beaches, temples, and cultural attractions. The layout is clean, modern, and mobile-friendly, offering a smooth user experience.

Login Page

A clean and responsive login page built using HTML and CSS. It features input fields for username and password, a login button, and modern styling with centered layout and hover effects.
